A sportsbook is the same thing as a bookmaker or bookie: It's a company or individual that accepts bets from individual sports bettors. Sportsbooks accept bets on either side of a sporting event. They're able to afford to do this because of the difference between what a bettor has to wager and what the bettor wins. Sportsbooks are the +1.5 underdog in a game, meaning oddsmakers believe they will lose, but only by a point. To win this spread bet with the 49ers, San Francisco would need to win the game outright or lose by one point exactly. What Is Spread Betting - Point Spreads Explained - Covers guides
